

Join us for the speciality food world's most exciting night of the year

The 2010 Great Taste Awards Presentation Evening

at Fortnum & Mason on Monday September 6

Over 500 celebrity chefs, food writers, buyers, retailers, producers, not to mention the odd TV and radio personality will come together to taste 3-star award-winning foods as we reveal the regional & national winners and finally, the 2010 Supreme Champion.

Chefs' stations around the stunning floor of one of London's most famous food halls will serve tasters of 3-star award-winning food and drink. See if you agree with the judges' verdicts. BBC Radio 2 food correspondent, Nigel Barden will again be in charge of proceedings as the awards are announced and celebrity guests will greet the winners on stage.

After the winners have received their trophies, enjoy a special dinner prepared by Fortnum & Mason's renowned executive chef, Sean Hill. Tickets are available for the reception and dinner or just for the reception and awards ceremony. But numbers are limited, so place your booking as early as possible to avoid disappointment.

Ticket prices:

Option 1

Great Taste Reception to include wine and tasters of 3-star award-winning foods followed by 3-course dinner including half bottle of wine:

Guild of Fine Food members: £60 inc vat

Non-members: £65 inc vat

(Tables of 10 or single tickets available)

Option 2

Great Taste Reception to include wine and tasters of 3-star award-winning foods:

Guild of Fine Food members: £17.50 inc vat

Non-members: £20 inc vat

To order tickets visit www.finefoodworld.co.uk/gta or contact Charlie Westcar on 01963 824464 charlie.westcar@finefoodworld.co.uk